

THE WORK IN FAR OFF JAPAN

Elder Alma O. Taylor's Account of A Recent Conference.

ALL ARE MUCH ENCOURAGED

Have Made Many Friends in Their
Several Fields—Elders Speak
The Japanese Tongue.

The "News" has received a synopsis of Elder Alma O. Taylor's journal, which was received by his brother Samuel M. yesterday, and which furnishes some interesting items explanatory of the Japanese mission at the present time, also some of the future prospects. It is as follows:

UTAH COLONY IN JAPAN PARTAKING OF A "HOUSE-CLEANING" DAY DINNER.

Tokio, Japan, June 7, 1903.—(Sunday.) Our first meeting began at 10 a. m. The six brethren, who had been out for several weeks past laboring as traveling Elders, arrived on Thursday last, so we had a full representation of the brethren and sisters who had been sent from Zion; also our native converts, Mrs. Oyama. After the opening exercises and the administration of the Sacrament, each one addressed the meeting. Elder Featherstone said he was very grateful that through the blessing of the Lord, he and his companion, Elder Hedges, had been able to speak with considerable ease to the people. Now that it had been decided that Sisters Ensign and Featherstone should accompany their husbands upon their return to their field of labor he felt satisfied the sisters would be a potent power for good among the people and he invoked in fervent terms a blessing upon the Japanese nation and especially upon those who were sent to instruct them. Elder Jack was pleased to be back at what he called "our home" and partake of the heavenly influence which prevails here. He stated that his experience during the last six months in Naoyasu had been a valuable one. Although this is a Buddhist stronghold, the people are anxious to read everything of a novel character, consequently they had accepted quite a number of our tracts. He paid a beautiful tribute to his companion, Elder Stoker; he felt honored in laboring with no worthy a man. Christian churches in that part being crowded to the doors during their services would seem to indicate that many will be found who will yet listen to our message, said he. We have made no enemies but many friends, among whom are the officers of that city. I spoke next, and in my feeble way encouraged the brethren to be diligent but not too anxious; assuring them it was not the Lord's will that we should be in a hurry to receive the gift of tongues or other special manifestations. We have in the past, and are now doing all we can to faithfully fill the mission upon which we have been sent and must leave the result of our efforts to our Heavenly Father, who will make everything known through His servants that is essential in His own time and His own way. Elder Hedges bore testimony to the only true Church. The return of the brethren caused him much joy and he firmly believed that the work would become very prosperous in the future. He offered an earnest prayer to that end. Elder Cairne stated that he and Elder Ensign had held meetings every Sunday in a grove they had dedicated for that purpose, and they had enjoyed much of the Spirit. This was especially the case five weeks ago, while holding meetings in Naoyasu. He testified to the goodness of the Lord in strengthening his memory and aiding the ease with which he was able to speak to the people was an astonishment to himself. Elder Stoker said some of his experiences had been trying, while others had been pleasant. Some wanted to hear the Elders, while others wanted them to leave, showing no desire for any new religion. The translation of the hymn, "Come, Come Ye Saints," in Japanese had proven one of the most attractive things to the people among whom he had been laboring. The healing of his badly injured ankle by the power of God, as well as other manifestations, had greatly strengthened his faith. He was thankful that he had been called to this mission. Elder Ensign was never more blessed than during the last six weeks in the field with his companion, Elder Cairne. So united in thought and feeling were they that when one would make a suggestion about their labors the other would generally remark: "I have been thinking the same thing myself." He said that every time he bore testimony of the divine mission of the Prophet

"A piece of work so bravely done."

Gorham
Silver

For even the most trivially unimportant is as "bravely done" as the most elaborately expensive. In Gorham silverware, too, the material is always solid, sterling silver. Yet in no case is the cost other than moderate.

An responsible Jeweler keep it idents in Zion follow the brethren and sisters who are sent to perform missionary labors and give to them similar joys and that sweet peace which grows out of the Gospel of peace and good will.

President Grant spoke at some length in the same kind and fatherly manner that he marked all of his instructions since we came to Japan. He expressed himself as being well satisfied with the labors of the brethren so far, and gave us much encouragement in relation to the future; also gave us some very timely suggestions suited to both our present and future labors in the ministry. He remarked that our labors as well as ourselves were in the hands of God. He would overlook all for the best. When returning home the consciousness of having faithfully performed our duty even if we did not baptize one single soul would more than reward us for all the seeming sacrifices we had made or the trials through which we might have passed. At 2 p. m. we had our regular afternoon meeting in the Japanese rooms. There were 14 Japanese and 12 missionaries present. All of the brethren spoke; also Brother Oyama.

After the meeting most of the Japanese, as is their custom, remained to have a talk. All the Elders except our president spoke with the natives in Japanese. In the evening Elder Featherstone and myself accepted the invitation of Mr. Yoshida to accompany him to his home. He had visited us a time or two previous to this. We were enjoying his hospitality some time when he told us that he had left our shoes (according to custom) and stole mine. The matter was reported to the police, which I had to borrow a pair from our friend to go home with.

DEWEY'S WITNESSES AFRAID.

Dare Not Go to Woodland So Will Appear in Topeka.

Topeka, Kan., June 25.—Chauncey Dewey's witnesses are afraid to appear in Topeka on Monday, June 29. Capt. Chad Hamilton, special commissioner to take testimony in the case, summoned the witnesses to appear in Goodland today. He was informed that the Goodland witnesses were afraid to appear in Goodland and changed him to charge the hearing to Topeka. On July 2 the commissioner will be at St. Francis for the purpose of examining the state's witnesses.

Capt. Cunningham of the Osborne militia company, which guarded Chauncey Dewey and his companions during their trial in Cheyenne county, is here to report to the adjutant general. He reports that the western country is quieted down now, but that it would be unsafe for the Deweys to venture back there, even though they are allowed by the supreme court to give bail. He says there is still a bitter feeling against the Deweys in the northwest.

A CRAZED LOVER.

Cuts Girl's Throat Because She Refused to Marry Him.

Sherman, Conn., June 25.—Angered over her refusal to marry him, 27-year-old Worden of Carmel, N. Y., today killed Edith Roscoe, also of that town, by cutting her throat. He then attacked Mrs. Sherman, Roscoe's mother-in-law of Mrs. Roscoe, with a hammer, crushing her skull and inflicting probably fatal injuries. Worden then attempted to kill himself by shooting.

Kansas Legislature Adjourns.

Topeka, Kan., June 26.—The extra session of the Kansas legislature ended this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Over 50 bills were passed, only two of which were of a general nature. Most of them gave Kansas counties the right to restore bridges that had been washed away by the flood. County commissioners are authorized to ask flood sufferers from the county fund to any extent that seems best to them. To the last an effort was made to pass a bill appropriating money for the relief of the sufferers, but it was defeated. The action of the legislature has caused a great amount of criticism.

Louisiana Negro Lynched.

Jonesville, La., June 26.—News reached here today of the lynching of Lamb Whitely, a negro, on the Smithland plantation, near Monterey landing, Concord parish. Whitely assaulted a white man and a mob took him to the woods and riddled him with bullets.

Treasurer of Amherst Dead.

Amherst, Mass., June 25.—Joseph W. Fairbanks, treasurer of Amherst college for the past six years, is dead. He was a graduate of the class of '66, Amherst, and had been an instructor in Worcester, St. Louis, St. Paul, Minneapolis and principal of Williston seminary, East Hampton.

Lipton Luncheon at White House.

Washington, June 26.—Sir Thomas Lipton, the challenger for the America's cup, launched with President Roosevelt at the White House this afternoon. The other guests were Andrew D. White, the former American ambassador to Germany; William P. Fife, the designer of Shamrock III; R. A. C. Smith, club; Asst. Secy. of War Sanger, Adj. Gen. Corbin, George W. Perkins of New York, Senator Hanna and Secy. Moody. Upon the conclusion of luncheon, Sir Thomas departed for New York.

Manila Ry. & Lighting Co.

Hartford, Conn., June 25.—Charles W. Gross and Arthur L. Shipman have filed with the secretary of state articles of incorporation for the Manila Railway & Lighting company, with $6,000,000 capital. The company has the right to build any kind of railroad anywhere, to run steamship lines and to establish gas and electric plants outside of Connecticut. The backers of the new company are said to be New York capitalists.

RUSSIA WILL RETURN PETITION
Wants No Interference on the Jewish Question.

IS FRIENDLY TO AMERICA.

Hopes Her Position Will be Appreciated—Mr. Riddle Will Not be Subjected to Any Embarrassment.

Washington, June 26.—The Russian government has learned with profound regret of the intention of the Washington authorities to forward to St. Petersburg a petition from American Jews relative to Russia's treatment of her Jewish subjects. It is yet hoped that the United States will appreciate the Russian view of the case and will content itself with the kindly expressions of sympathy which it already has offered for the affair at Kishineff. The Associated Press already has stated the Russian position regarding what is considered outside interference in the internal affairs of Russia.

That position continues to be held, and the Associated Press is further permitted to say that Mr. Riddle, the American charge, when he presents the petition at the Russian foreign office, will be received with the same cordiality always accorded an American envoy. In returning the petition to Mr. Riddle the officials will assure him that Russia cherishes no ill-will toward the United States, and that the action it takes with respect to the petition is necessary in view of Russia's unalterable policy of refraining from interference in the affairs of other powers and insisting on similar treatment for itself. The Russian government hopes its firmness in the matter will be misunderstood, but in view of the announcement of its position weeks ago, it is surprised at developments which will force a reiteration of its views.

Mr. Riddle, it can be stated, will be subjected to no personal embarrassment in presenting the petition, and he will be given to understand that the Russian authorities appreciate the fact that he is only carrying out his orders. Should the presentation of the petition be deferred until the summer, the Russian government is made aware of exonerating circumstances which put the matter in a different light. Indeed, it is declared that Russia would be glad to do anything possible to relieve the Jewish situation, but feels unable to sacrifice a principle which it has followed hitherto, and the American support of which it has warmly expressed.

The Russian government readily admits the sincerity of the American government's decision and declines to listen to reports that the forwarding of the petition has any ulterior significance or is in any way associated with any other matters.

Comment on Chamberlain's Speech

London, June 27.—All the morning papers make Chamberlain's speech at the Constitutional club the subject of leading articles which follow party lines. The most interesting feature of the occasion is acknowledged to have been the announced harmony between the two cabinet ministers on the question of the Unionist party will remain divided.

The colonial secretary's careful statement, that Mr. Balfour's leadership is essential to the success of the Unionist party, followed later by the statement that a system of preferential tariffs is the only system by which the empire can be kept together, is taken to mean that there can no longer remain any doubt that the premier and the colonial secretary have arrived at the future policy. The opposition papers rejoice, asserting that the difference which is known to exist inside the cabinet ranks, coupled with the opposition of the working people in the country must bring defeat to the advocates of Mr. Chamberlain's policy when a general election takes place.

Shot His Wife and Suicided.

New York, June 27.—After a desperate struggle with his wife, his stepdaughter, in "The Hermitage," one of the finest residences in Wallington, N. J., William Desler has shot and wounded himself, and then shot himself in the heart, causing instant death. He had been estranged from his wife for more than a year and went back, it is said, to seek a reconciliation. Desler, after leaving his wife, opened a saloon at Guttenberg. When he returned to his wife's house, at the stepdaughter's instigation, he was at the door. Desler pushed her aside and rushed to his wife's apartments. Firing two shots at his wife, Desler then turned the pistol on himself, and in a desperate struggle with the girl, who had followed him up stairs and attempted to secure possession of the revolver.

Rio Grande Drives People from Homes

El Paso, Texas, June 27.—The high water of the Rio Grande north of this city in New Mexico has driven hundreds of families from their homes and is threatening to sweep away the foundations of the city.

Rheumatism
Is Not a Skin Disease.

Most people have an idea that rheumatism is contracted like a cold, that the damp, chilly air penetrates the muscles and joints and causes the terrible aches and pains, or that it is something like a skin disease to be rubbed away with liniment or drawn out with plasters; but Rheumatism originates in the blood and is caused by Urea, or Uric Acid, an irritating, corrosive poison that settles in muscles, joints and nerves, producing inflammation and soreness and the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to this distressing disease.

Exposure to bad weather or sudden chilling of the body will hasten an attack of Rheumatism after the blood and system are in the right condition for it to develop, but have nothing to do with the real true causes of Rheumatism, which are internal and not external. Liniments, plasters and rubbing will sometimes reduce the inflammation and swelling and ease the pain for a time, but fail to relieve permanently because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it attacks it in the blood, and the Uric Acid poison is neutralized, the sluggish circulation stimulated and quickened, and the system is purified and cleansed, the aching muscles and joints are relieved of all irritating matter and a lasting cure of this most painful disease effected.

S. S. S. is a harmless vegetable remedy, unequalled as a blood purifier and an invigorating, pleasant tonic. Book on Rheumatism will be mailed free.

Catarrh Worse Than Smallpox.

It may be safely stated that CATARRH is more to be dreaded in a community than Smallpox, because the people are so apt to treat it lightly until it has spread and thousands of innocents become its victims, resulting in defective eyesight, deafness, nervousness, loss of hair, imperfect teeth in children, and many still worse symptoms in older people.

You Cannot Be Too Careful

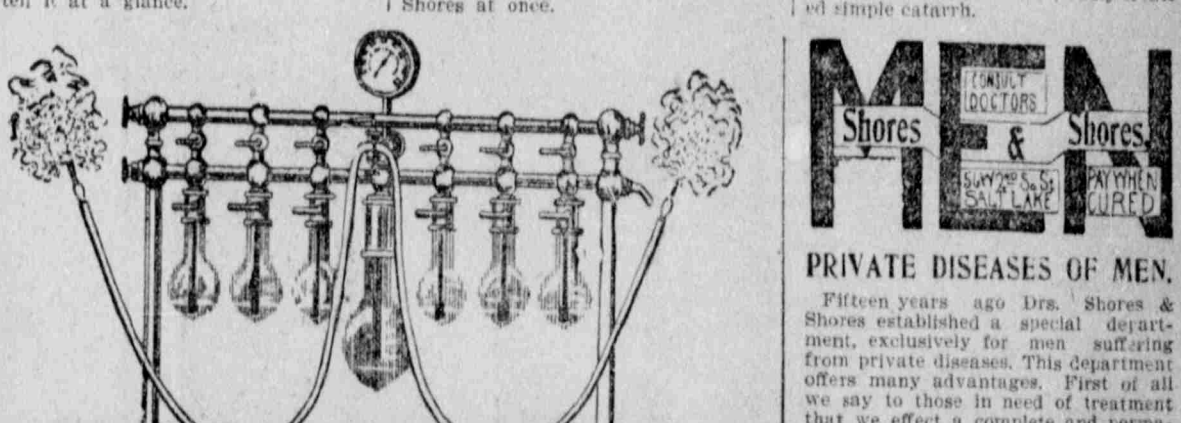

nor guard too well this insidious monster that "comes like a thief in the night" and before you realize it, is sapping away the life blood of your loved ones.

CATARRH.

When a known contagious disease makes its appearance in a community the municipal authorities promptly enforce the strictest sanitary regulations, and by confining it to one place the doctor is able to check it and quickly stamp it out, but when Catarrh makes its appearance in a family the family physician, ignorantly or maliciously, advises that it is not a serious matter—a "slight cold," and the like, and that there is no danger of complications of infection, and consequently the people are misled into allowing a little thing to grow and being off their guard, we soon have thousands of infected people and the disease runs on unchecked until the whole system is a mass of corruption and poison. Thus like a tiny hole in a dam the germ starts little and insignificant at first, but gradually growing and gaining in volume until it bursts upon the startled vision like a torrent and the mischief is done. Beware of little things, and the big things will take care of themselves. If you have Catarrh—no matter how slightly—GET CURED NOW—DON'T ALLOW IT TO RUN ON AND RUIN YOUR HEALTH—IT WILL TAKE LONG FOR COMPLICATIONS TO ARISE.

These have taken refuge in the foot hills. Mrs. Wm. McDonald, of Berne, N. M., is among those who have taken refuge in El Paso. In describing the situation, Mrs. McDonald says:

"The high water has practically rendered homeless every resident from Mesquite and El Estero south to White Spur, N. M. All along the road in the sand hills families can be seen camped with no shelter. The heat of the sun in the hills is intolerable. Many alfalfa fields are ruined and many Mexican families are not only homeless, but living on short rations. At El Paso the river continues to fall slowly."

The "Force" of Herpicide.

Quickly Arrests Hair Loss, and Compels Obedience to the Laws of Nature.

Scalp Gumption.

Not A Hair Grower.

Lord Lytton unjustly accuses many men when he says: "One does not have gumption until one has been properly cheated;" for, when one is cheated, it implies an intention on the part of another to cheat. The fact is that few people are cheated, but many cheat themselves by not keeping posted. Within the last few years scientists have discovered that dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair are caused by a germ or parasite that attacks the hair root, and that the only successful treatment is to destroy the dandruff germ. While this discovery proves the uselessness of applying "hair tonics" to a hair, whose life is being sapped by a germ, it utterly fails to prove that the manufacturers who introduced their so-called "hair tonics" and "hair growers" years ago, did so dishonestly. It does prove, however, that people should keep better posted and rely more on their own judgment. Yesterday, no to speak, Dandruff was considered a functional disorder, today it is known to be a germ disease and it is treated successfully with Antidandruff. Not since the world began, has that peculiar form of active knowledge called "Gumption" paid bigger dividends than now. Knowledge is power, but gumption saves lots of trouble. Kill the dandruff germ with Nibbro's Herpicide, and your hair will grow as nature intended.

As a delightful hair dressing for regular toilet use, NIBBRO'S HERPICIDE easily leads the world. Perfectly clear and chemically pure, it contains no grease, oil, or sedentary substance, neither will it stain or dry. Its agreeable action makes Herpicide a hot weather necessity, and its odor, which is characteristic, delights the most fastidious. Try it.
